Chant Title and Author: If I Were Building It by Eva Thaddeus

If you were building something high,
What would you use? What would you use?
If I were building something high,
I would use a metal frame.

If you were building something huge,
What would you use? What would you use?
If I were building something huge,
I would start by pouring concrete.

If you were building something imposing,
What would you use? What would you use?
If I were building something imposing,
I would use big slabs of stone.

If you were building something sustainable,
What would you use? What would you use?
If I were building something sustainable,
I might use straw bale or adobe.
