Chant Title and Author: Now Invent!

Alexander Graham Bell had a friend
Got ideas on how to send
His voice down a long, thin wire
The telephone was his desire

Now invent! Now invent!
Now invent, now invent, now invent!

Thomas Edison had read
Until facts poured from his head.
Light bulb filament did he think up
To give us light when we wake up

Now invent! Now invent!
Now invent, now invent, now invent!

Ben Franklin wanted protection
From lightning storms that would threaten
He built a rod to put on buildings
Now electricity can't harm anything.

Now invent! Now invent!
Now invent, now invent, now invent!

Additional instructions/melody/tempo etc.: To the tune of: "I'm a Nut"
