

School/District	Dual language Education of New Mexico
Grade Level	Secondary
Content Area	Science
Topic/unit/core selection	Forces and Motion
Chant Title and Author	Forces and Motion Yes, Ma'am By: Juanita Sandoval
Copy and Paste Chant Here	Is this a force? Is this a force? Well, how do you know? Well, how do you know? Give me some examples. Give me some examples. Is this a normal force? Is this a normal force? Well, how do you know? Well, how do you know? Give me some examples Give me some examples Is this gravity? Is this gravity? Well, how do you know? Well, how do you know? Give me some examples. Give me some examples. Is this applied force? Is this applied force? Well, how do you know? Well, how do you know? Give me some examples. Give me some examples. And are you through? Did you tell me true? What did you chant?	Yes, ma'am! Yes, ma'am! It's a push and pull. It makes things happen. Contact and Fundamental. Normal and Gravitational. Yes, ma'am! Yes, ma'am! Nothing is moving They are equal and opposite Book on a table Sitting on a chair Yes, ma'am! Yes, ma'am! Masses pull each other. Greater masses have more force. Moon around the Earth. Falling to the ground. Yes, ma'am! Yes, ma'am! Two objects touch. A push or a pull is applied. Walking your dog. Closing the door. Yes, ma'am! Yes, ma'am! Forces!